Notice of Disclaimer

Probation services cannot comment on, or accept any responsibility for the suitability of either vacancies, potential tenants, or any other matters arising out of, or incidental to, any enquiries made or contracts or letting agreements entered into. Housing Benefit can be claimed from the appropriate authority. You will not necessarily be given the full rent asked for by the landlord.

Please note that if you are 34 or younger then a single room rent will apply.

You are advised to complete a Housing Benefit form (LIB HCTB1) prior to the signing of a tenancy agreement to make certain you are aware of the amount the property is worth for housing benefit purpose.

Your Housing Benefit award will then be based on your circumstances, taking into consideration your income, savings, number of people in your household and your rent.

Whilst every effort has been made to give you correct information, some providers and/or contact numbers may have changed and will be updated in due course where new details are provided to us.

Squatting Law

The rules about squatting changed on 1st September 2012. Squatting is when you move in or stay somewhere without the owner's permission.

Up to now, if someone was squatting, for example, in an empty house or a flat, and the owner wanted to get them out, they generally had to use the civil law and go to court to get permission to evict the squatters. This would have been at the owner's expense.

However, squatting in residential properties is a new criminal offence. This means that the owner doesn't have to go to court to try and evict a squatter - they can just call the police. The police have the right to arrest squatters. It doesn't matter whether someone has been squatting for a long time in the same place or has only just moved in. A squatter can be arrested for squatting in all types of residential buildings, such as houses or flats, but also places like caravans and mobile homes.

If someone is found guilty of squatting, they could be sent to prison for up to six months or have to pay a fine of up to £5,000, or both.

It's not squatting if you had a tenancy which has come to an end but you haven't yet moved out, or if you've fallen behind with your rent. In these kind of situations, your landlord will still need to go to court if they want to evict you or get their money back.

Advice about renting in the private sector

One of the main advantages of renting privately is that you can choose where you would like to live and the type of property you would like to live in. You can choose between furnished and unfurnished accommodation. Renting also means that it's easier to move to other areas.

How do I find somewhere to live?

There are a number of private letting agents operating across London who will be able to help you with finding somewhere to live. You can also find information about private properties to rent through;

- adverts in shop windows and supermarkets,
- Loot
- local papers
- If you have access to the internet there are some good websites showing rooms and properties available for rent. If you do not have access to the internet you can also use the free internet service which is offered in most libraries.
A good starting point is to use a search engine type into the search box the basic details of what you are looking for, for example, type 'properties to rent in Lambeth (or the area you would like to live in).

What about a deposit or rent in advance?

Most private landlords require at least 4 weeks rent in advance.

It can be difficult to find the money to pay rent up front, especially if you are on a low income. You may be able to apply for a budgeting or crisis loan to assist you with the rent in advance.

Applying for a budgeting loan

- you can apply for a budgeting loan if you or your partner have been getting income support, income based job seekers allowance or pension credit for at least 26 weeks,
- how much you can borrow will depend on your personal circumstances, with the maximum amount being £1,500,
- the loan is usually paid direct into your bank or building society account,
- the loan is an interest free loan which you have to pay back and is usually payable by direct deductions from the amount of benefit you receive,
- to apply you need to fill out form SF500 which you can get from your local Jobcentre Plus office. The form comes with notes to help you fill it in.

If you are unable to get this type of help you may be able to ask for financial help from family or friends. Some landlords will also be happy to make an arrangement for you to pay extra with your rent to build up a deposit. If this is the case remember to get receipts for any extra payments. Renting a room in shared accommodation will also be cheaper than renting a self contained property. You may decide to go into shared accommodation whilst you save enough money to be able to afford self-contained accommodation.

How can I pay the rent?

If you are receiving benefits, or are working and on a low income, you may be entitled to help with paying the rent: This is called housing benefit which is paid as a Local Housing Allowance (LHA) to assist you in paying your rent.

Local housing allowance is not based on the property you live in, but is usually based on;

- where you live,
- who you live with,
- the amount of savings you have and income you receive.
- The amount you are entitled to may also be affected by other things, such as how much the rent is and whether anyone else living with you is expected to contribute to your rent.

Why was Local Housing Allowance brought in?

LHA has been introduced nationwide. It gives tenants more choice in where they live and it's fairer too. This is because with LHA:

- you are entitled to the same amount of benefit as people in the same circumstances as you
- you can find out how much benefit you can get before you rent a property
- you can decide how much of your benefit you want to spend on renting a property
- you can usually get your benefit paid to you. It is up to you to pay the rent to your landlord
- you can find out about your benefit more quickly than before.

How do I get my benefit if Local Housing Allowance applies to me?

Usually you will have your benefit paid directly to you. It will be paid directly into your bank or building society account, if you have one, or by cheque.

If you do not already have a bank or building society account, you may want to set one up. That way you can arrange to pay the rent to your landlord automatically, using a standing order.

You can get advice about opening and running a bank account from any bank or building society. You can also get advice from a welfare organisation such as Citizens Advice – your local CAB's are listed further in this booklet.

It is up to you to pay the rent to your landlord. If you don't pay your rent, you may be taken to court and evicted from the property.

Can I have my benefit paid direct to my landlord?

Your benefit will be paid to you unless you are likely to have difficulty paying your rent, or it must be paid to your landlord.

If you are worried about managing your money, ask your Offender Manager for help. In some cases they can make a request to Housing Benefit so your rent is paid direct to your landlord.

What will happen if I use my benefit for something else?

Your benefit is there to help to pay your rent with. If you do not use your benefit to pay your rent, your landlord may take you to court or try to evict you and you may lose your home.

Changes of circumstance

If you are getting Housing Benefit and you move to a new address, get a job or any other circumstances change, you should tell the Housing Benefit Office straightaway. You may need to make a new claim for housing benefit.

Recent Changes to Local Housing Allowance

Single and under 35

If you are single, aged under 35 and renting in the private sector (not social housing), you might be affected by a change in housing benefit assessment criteria that took effect in January 2012.

From January 2012, anyone under 35 will only be able to claim housing benefit on a shared accommodation rate to help with their rent (rather than being able to claim for self-contained one-bedroom accommodation).

This means you may only be entitled to the lower rate of housing benefit for a room in shared accommodation if all of the following apply:

- you are a single person
- you are occupying a one-bedroom self-contained accommodation in the private rented sector
- your housing benefit is due to be reviewed from January 2012 onwards
- at the date of the review you will be aged over 25 or over but under 35 years, and
- you are not covered by any of the exemptions on sharing accommodation.

Previously, single people who are aged under 25 could only claim a shared accommodation rate to help with their rent (unless certain exemptions apply). This was amended as part of a number of changes to welfare in 2012 and 2013.

Tips on privately renting in Lambeth (35 and older or with dependant children).

1. Let lots of agents know what you are looking for so you get a really good selection to choose from.
2. Inform the agent of your criteria (location, budget, furnished/unfurnished, occupation date requirement, tenancy period and any other aspects that are important to you).
3. Expect to pay a deposit of at least one months rent, possibly more. Possibly some administration charges.
4. You may be required to provide references.
5. Ensure you read and understand the tenancy agreement. The Citizens Advice Bureau may check this for you. (see following pages for CAB details). Clarify what is NOT included in the rental fee, such as council tax, utility bills, ground maintenance etc.
6. Examine the inventory prepared by the agent and keep a copy.
7. Notify defects in writing as soon as they become apparent (even if you do not want them remedied).
8. Establish what is covered under maintenance (boilers, refrigerators, radiators etc.).
9. Usually, you will not have to deal with the landlord directly. Should you have any problems or queries, direct them to your agent first.
10. Other issues to consider are, parking, neighbours, noise levels, public transport availability etc.

Contact information for shared private accommodation:

For those under the age of 35 years old and have no dependant children.

If you are under the age of 35 and you do not have any dependant children it is likely that you will only be entitled to the 'Shared Accommodation Rate of Housing Benefit. This is because you are expected to live in shared accommodation or a bedsit.

In order to find shared accommodation you will need to look in News Agents' noticeboards, the local newspaper and on the internet. When looking at an advert you will need to bear in mind who the advert is aimed at and whether or not you would 'fit in'. For example, if a property is advertised as 'great for a city professional' and you are at college, it is likely the property would not be suitable for you.

Refer to the page of useful websites that lists numerous sites where you can find private listings. These are a great resource for finding accommodation quickly:

WIRE (Women's Information and Resettlement for Ex-offenders)

This service meets women on release from prison and provides practical resettlement support, particularly around housing, finances and engaging with other services, such as those helping with substance misuse and mental health issues. Women who leave prison are often vulnerable to negative pressures from ex-partners so caseworkers on the team are specially trained in dealing with these issues, particularly those involving domestic abuse. This small, highly skilled team are all trained, reformed ex-offenders themselves with direct experience of the criminal justice system.

SOS Project

This award-winning London-wide project offers intensive support to persistent and prolific young offenders to help them break free from crime - particularly gang-related crime. It works with young people both in prison and in the community, offering a tailored package of support for each individual to help them identify and realise alternative aspirations and goals away from a life of crime. It also works with young people at risk of getting involved in the criminal justice system.

Peer Advice Project

The Peer Advice Project aims to meet the large demand for advice services amongst the prison population by using an under-used resource - serving prisoners themselves. The Peer Advice Project was initially set up to address the high levels of homelessness amongst the prison population by training serving prisoners to act as housing advisors. However, in some prisons advisors cover other areas such as employment and training opportunities.

Meet at the Gates

Provides post-release support for prison leavers returning to London. Support workers meet their clients at the prison gate and offer help with accommodation and referrals to other support services.

Emergency housing support and private rented accommodation

Having somewhere safe and stable to live is essential for our clients to be able to move their lives forward. We offer a week-day emergency drop in housing support service for local homeless people at our Head Office in Camberwell. We also have a developing Private Rented Sector project which provides private rented accommodation for our clients.

Private Rented Sector Project

Housing support services

Running alongside our peer-based support is a housing casework service provided under the prison's Housing Information and Advice Service (HIAS) in partnership with St Mungo's. It offers advice on housing-related issues to both newly sentenced prisoners and those about to be released.

The services aim to support the resettlement of prisoners and reduce re-offending on release. These caseworkers work alongside our peer advisors and the prisons staff to provide prisoners with support.

For more information and leaflets on all the above, please visit www.stgilestrust.org.uk

It is possible that if you become homeless you will not receive any assistance from the Local Authority, although you will receive advice. If you have been given an information pack from an officer of the Local Authority, it is likely that you would have been advised and assessed according to the relevant legislation. If you are told that you are 'not in Priority Need', this does not mean that the local authority does not recognise that you are homeless. It does however mean that the assistance you will receive will be limited. What do I do if I become street homeless?

London Street Rescue helps rough sleepers off the streets and into accommodation.

If you are sleeping rough, you can call us on 0870 383 3333.

About London Street Rescue

Every night of the year, we are out and about across the capital, acting as a safety net for some of society's most vulnerable men and women.

Our teams of outreach workers and volunteers find and engage with rough sleepers in a bid to help them off the streets.

We provide practical assistance, including:

- Help into emergency accommodation.
- Help into hostel accommodation/private. rented/The Clearing house/Supported housing.
- Help with ID and benefits.
- information and advice about support services.
- Assistance with linking in with health services.
- Street Rescue outreach workers prepare for a shift.

London Street Rescue helps people of all ages and with many different needs. These include people with poor mental or physical health and those with drug or alcohol problems.

Our teams are there for people who are not getting the services they need and are unlikely to seek help for themselves.

London Street Rescue's actions can act as a catalyst for change in people's lives. Getting rough sleepers into accommodation is often the first step towards them getting back on track and having a home of their own.

Our teams refuse to give up on people. We will work with individuals for as long as it takes to help them move away from a street lifestyle, no matter how complex their needs.

People sleeping rough are very vulnerable to the dangers of the streets. The actions of London Street Rescue can save lives.

The No Second Night Out (NSNO) project was launched on 1 April 2011 as a pilot project aimed at ensuring those who find themselves sleeping rough in central London for the first time need not spend a second night on the streets.

Each week about 50 people are seen rough sleeping for the first time in London. Many of them are new to the capital. Our aim is to ensure there is a rapid response to new rough sleepers, and that they are provided an offer that means they do not have to sleep out for a second night. Other projects exist to support those already rough sleeping and living on the streets.

The Mayor of London has committed to end rough sleeping in London. To deliver this commitment he established the London Delivery Board (LDB) – a partnership body chaired by the Mayor’s Housing Advisor that brings together central London boroughs, government departments, the voluntary sector and key stakeholders. The outcome the LDB is seeking to deliver is that by the end of 2012 no one will live on the streets of London and no individual arriving on the streets will sleep out for a second night.

No Second Night Out began as a pilot project on the 1st April 2011 and operates across ten central boroughs represented on the LDB. From 1st June 2012 it is rolling out to all London boroughs.

Information for Probation

Caring for Ex-Offenders provides a free and local service for ex-offenders to aid them in successful resettlement back into society and the subsequent reduction in risk of re-offending that follows. Our service is available to anyone about to be released from prison, recently released, or currently serving a community sentence; for the purpose of ease I refer to all the afore mentioned as ex-offenders throughout this document.

We link ex-offenders to a local CFEO community that provides the ex-offender with a mentor and a team of supportive volunteers who can aid them in successful resettlement. The mentor is there to help address attitudes and behavior and work towards change, setting goals and seeing them through. The rest of the community's team are there for any other needs that may arise, such as the need for accommodation, help with addiction problems, finding employment or education, filling out forms, improving family relationships, or simply friendship and a supportive community of people.

These may be fulfilled through the community's own programmes and facilities (some of our communities run employability schemes, debt advice centres, addiction recovery programs or supported housing facilities for ex-offenders), or for those that don't through signposting the ex-offender to the appropriate local agencies or charities that can help them according to their individual needs.

Through this support and regular mentoring over an extended period of time strong positive relationships are developed, combined with help with practical needs this process reduces the risk of reoffending by increasing the chance of successful resettlement. Essentially CFEO communities are there to facilitate the 7 pathways being effectively in place in an individual's life.

CFEO communities are local churches but this does not dictate the character of the individual we refer; they can be of any faith, or none, and the communities are committed to helping referrals regardless of their beliefs. This nonetheless adds another dimension to the support that can be given as these communities can aid ex-offenders spiritually if necessary.

Here you can also download resources, including our Referral and Church Registration forms. via the website.

Process details:

The referral process begins with the initial contact between the individual wishing to be linked to a CFEO community and our central office, and then proceeds as follows:

1. An ex-offender who wishes to be linked to a CFEO community to get help with resettlement and societal reintegration completes one of our referral forms.
2. We obtain risk assessments relating to the individual concerned. For those still serving a prison sentence this will usually be from a Chaplain or Resettlement Officer and we will always obtain one from their Probation Officer.
3. We then contact a CFEO community on our network located in a suitable place for the ex-offender; preferably within a mile of where they are living or relocating to, and always within a reasonable travelling distance via public transport. We ask the community if they are in a position at that time to support the individual.
4. If they agree, we then pass on the ex-offender's details; including their risk assessments in order for the community to put in place any relevant safety precautions such as safe guards relating to interaction with children or vulnerable adults if necessary. If not, we try another community on our network until we find one that can offer appropriate support. We also inform the ex-offender that they have been linked to a community and provide them with their assigned mentor's name.
5. If the individual is still in prison then a member of the community's CFEO team contacts them whilst they are still in prison, visits if possible, and on release personally meets them at the gate; if the individual has already been released, or serving a community sentence, then the process jumps to point 6.
6. The mentor then meets with the ex-offender regularly and organises any help they may need from the wider CFEO team; such as help with job applications or benefit forms, help with addiction problems, or finding relevant help if none is available from within the community, etc. The Caring for Ex-Offenders staff are also available to answer queries and assist in any way possible.
7. CFEO contacts the mentor at intervals to assess the progress of the relationship and check if they need any further support. We can then update the prison staff and/or probation if they wish to hear how the individual is doing.

Community Training: CFEO communities often have experience of working with ex-offenders before joining our network but for those who don't, or who need additional equipping, we offer two forms of training in order to equip communities:

- 1 - CFEO training:
 - Setting up a CFEO Team
 - Relationship Building
 - Working with High Risk and Sex Offenders
 - Working with Statutory Organisations
 - Risk Management
 - Volunteer Supervision and Safeguarding
- 2 - Mentor training (Mentoring and Befriending Foundation accredited):
 - Communication Skills
 - Boundaries and Risk
 - Understanding Ex-offenders
 - If you have any further questions about CFEO, require additional details, or a copy of our referral forms then please do get in touch.

Foundation 66 - Lambeth Supported Housing

Description

This is a residential service providing furnished, excluded licensed accommodation for up to 18 months to individuals aged 18 and older who have experienced problems primarily with their alcohol use and have no serious and enduring mental health diagnosis. Residents must be at least 48 hours abstinent from alcohol and illicit drugs and be willing to maintain abstinence and to engage with agreed support plans.

Through groups and one-to-one sessions residents are supported to acquire necessary life skills to live alcohol free and independently in the community. Staff work with the resident, other stakeholders and partnerships to create and review support plans that enable the individual to make changes necessary to achieve independence. Within the service residents are provided with more intensive support in first stage accommodation for approximately 6 months. When they are ready they move to our second stage lower support accommodation.

The Open Door service operates between 9am-1pm Mondays and Tuesdays, 1-5pm Wednesdays and Fridays, 5-8pm Thursdays and 10am-4pm Saturdays.

No appointments are necessary. Even if we are unable to help you ourselves, we will refer you to someone who can.

WHAT SUPPORT IS THERE FOR PEOPLE WITH NO RECOURSE TO PUBLIC FUNDS?

No recourse to public funds (NRPF) refers to people who are not entitled to access certain public services in this country. People with NRPF are those who are subject to immigration control and have no entitlement to welfare benefits, to Home Office asylum support for asylum seekers, or to public housing.

NRPF includes:

Refused asylum seekers whose appeal rights are exhausted, people who have overstayed their visas, people on sponsorship visas, such as spousal visas.

Overseas visitors, people on student visas and other irregular migrants.

Some unemployed migrants from Central and Eastern Europe may also have NRPF.

Individuals with NRPF who become homeless have very few avenues for support that are accessible to them, and some may face destitution.

The Housing rights website at www.housing-rights.info/index.php gives information for recent arrivals in England for advisers about entitlements to housing, based on people's immigration status.

Homeless Link's website has information about entitlements to support at www.homeless.org.uk and guidance or organisations seeking to support individuals with no recourse to public funds.

Getting help

The regulations governing access to public services and funds is complex so it is important to get advice on individual circumstances as soon as possible. Day centres, CABx and local services for refugees and asylum seekers listed on Homeless London can provide advice on the limited accommodation and support options available for people with NRPF. Very few hostels or supported accommodation services can accept people with NRPF.

Homeless London has information about support for Central and Eastern Europeans - details available on www.homelesslondon.org/details.asp?id=QA65

Missionaries of Charity runs two emergency night shelters in London (one for men aged 30+ and one for women) that offer short term accommodation for those with nowhere else to stay and have no support needs. Some winter shelters that open during the cold weather may be able to accept people with NRPF. All these shelters are usually full and have few vacancies.

Returning to country of origin

The International Organisation for Migration (IOM) runs a voluntary return scheme (Voluntary Assisted Return and Reintegration Programme) details at www.homeless.org.uk to assist non-EEA nationals who have been in the asylum system at any stage (applying, appealing or refused) and who wish to return to their country of origin. IOM also runs a voluntary return assistance scheme for families and children (Assisted Voluntary Return or Families and Children)

Children & families Across Borders – www.cab.uk.net - can also assist vulnerable people to return home. Routes Home website – www.routeshome.org.uk - gives practical guidance for outreach staff and others involved in reconnecting Central and Eastern Europeans sleeping rough back to their home country.
